RENAISSANCE LEARNING, INC. AND RM EDUCATION INTEGRATE OFFERINGS FOR THE 21ST CENTURY CLASSROOM

June 6, 2007, Wisconsin Rapids, WI – Renaissance Learning, Inc., and RM Education, Inc. have announced today they have signed an agreement that will enable educators to utilize the Renaissance Responder™ handheld units with RM Easiteach software.

The RM Easiteach software is designed for use with all brands of interactive whiteboards and wireless tablets to deliver fast-paced, interactive and highly differentiated lessons on a wide range of grade levels and subjects. Educators using the software's voting tool will now be able to select the Renaissance Responder as an input device for interactive voting and quizzing with students.

A part of the interactive 2Know! Classroom Response System, the handheld Renaissance Responders use two-way radio frequency technology to help teachers know instantly whether or not students understand key concepts. The system's user-friendly toolbar allows teachers to set up questions in just seconds and the included test generator tabulates results automatically into the built-in gradebook, which saves teachers time and eliminates paperwork.

"The integration of the 2Know! Renaissance Responders with the RM Easiteach software further strengthens the systems' effectiveness in accelerating learning in the 21st Century Classroom," said Steve Schmidt, Renaissance Learning President and COO. "This partnership will deliver the best in integrated, interactive learning technologies, while building upon our commitment to further the interoperability of the 2Know! Classroom Response System."

"RM is always looking to partner with 'best-of-breed' solutions like the Renaissance Responders to support educators by building the leading technologies into the RM Easiteach Platform," said Kevin Pawsey, Managing Director for RM Educational Software, Inc. "This will help RM Easiteach continue to be a leading solution for educators in the K-12 market."

The enhanced RM Easiteach software, usable on both Mac and PC formats, will begin shipping later this month.
